a. WebQA Demo. Website <http://www.govqa.com/home.asp>.

This is a Citizen Response Management system where citizens can create a username/password, and then enter questions or comments via the web. Employees can respond via the web as well, and management can review all tasks to be sure nothing falls through the cracks. They can assign or reassign tasks / questions. The top ten questions come up on the website so for something like 4th of July fireworks, they may not even need to post a question.
